SENIORS AND HOUSING

*Office of the Minister
MLA, Calgary-Beddington*

Message from the Honourable Josephine Pon Minister of Seniors and Housing

Welcome to Vision 2030. On behalf of the Government of Alberta, thank you for participating in this year's symposium.

Seniors built this province and they deserve strong community supports. Our province is home to more than 620,000 seniors. By the year 2035, that number will be steadily approaching one million. While we work to provide the best services for seniors today, we must also have a vision toward the future.

Vision 2030 brings together experts and innovators across sectors to share findings and new solutions for Alberta's aging population. Our government is committed to working with civil society partners, such as the Alberta Association on Gerontology, to jointly organize this symposium, and ensure we are leveraging the full capacity of our province's people and resources to support seniors.

Each of you has unique knowledge, experiences and perspectives to offer. I trust you will make the most of this opportunity to learn and share with one another. By combining our efforts, we can find innovative ways to overcome challenges and achieve better outcomes. Our government understands the importance of this work and the support you provide to seniors in the community. Let's work together to make life better for our seniors now, and into the future.

Sincerely,

Josephine Pon
Minister of Seniors and Housing
